

NDIS at the Frontline:

Key Resources & Information for Workers

Increase your understanding of the NDIS operating environment and its implications for your role. This is an introductory training course for frontline workers new to the sector.

This session will cover what front line workers need to know about operating in the NDIS environment including:

- NDIS Plan interpretation
- Role of the LAC, Agency Planner and Support coordination
- What the National Quality and Safeguards Commission means for you and your work
- Learnings to date about how the scheme is operating
- Career pathways and professional development for frontline workers.

When:

Monday 28 May 2018
10:00 am to 12:30 pm

Where:

Participate Australia
113 - 115 Edwin Street North, Croydon

Cost: Free for frontline workers and managers new to the sector.

Facilitators: Jess Lobo and Jenny Klause, Sector Support Consultants, NDS

Supported by funding from the NSW and Australian government under the CHCP/CCSP programs

Bookings and enquires 9750 9344 or customerservice@4cs.org.au

